

Designation of Area of Specialization
The University of Iowa
Department of Accounting
Master of Accountancy Program

The Master of Accountancy program offers four specialized tracks: financial/audit, management information systems (MIS), managerial accounting, and tax. In addition to accounting courses, the various tracks include courses offered by the Finance Department, the Economics Department, the Management Sciences Department, the Marketing Department, and the College of Law. The Accounting Department must keep these departments and the College of Law informed as to the demand from M.Ac. students for their course offerings. Please indicate below the area of specialization that you plan on pursuing. If you are uncertain at this time, check the undecided box. Thank you very much.
