

Insurance Exclusions/Prohibited Uses

In the event of any loss, National Car Rental insurance coverage is primary unless the vehicle was used by or for any of the following:

- By a driver who is not an authorized driver
- By any driver under the influence of intoxicants, drugs, or any other substance known to impair driving ability
- For any illegal purpose
- By anyone who gives a false name, address age or other false or misleading information
- In any abusive or reckless manner or if convicted of careless driving
- To tow or push anything
- In any race, contest or training activity
- On unpaved roads
- Leaving the car rental vehicle and failing to remove the keys and the car rental is stolen
- For any use in Mexico without the prior written permission of the renting location. All protection is void in Mexico. Your written permission must be purchased before entering Mexico.

In the event of a loss, while on business the University's self insurance would apply in excess above National's coverage. In the event of loss during a personal rental the traveler's personal automobile insurance may be excess above National Car Rental. Prior to renting and using the vehicle for personal use the traveler should contact their personal automobile insurance carrier and determine if their personal automobile coverage would cover all damages including loss of use of the rental vehicle.
