

JULIANNE LOY HOYER

Address: P.O. Box 261
North Liberty, Iowa 52317
Telephone: 319-626-2352
Born: August 6, 1947, Rockford, Illinois

CURRENT POSITION: Documents Curator, Office of the State Archaeologist, University of Iowa

EDUCATION

- 1986-87 University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa; graduate work in Library and Information Science (M.A., school library certification, 1987).
- 1978-79 University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa; Graduate work in anthropology and geology.
- 1972-72 University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa; Graduate work in education and English (M.A.T. 1973).
- 1969-71 Washington State University, Pullman, Washington, graduate work in English and anthropology.
- 1965-69 Augustana College, Rock Island, Illinois, major - English, minor - geology (B.A. 1969, graduated Cum Laude, Phi Beta Kappa).
- 1962-65 Guilford High School, Rockford, Illinois, National Merit Scholarship winner.

SELECTED WORK EXPERIENCE

- 1990-present Documents Curator, Office of the State Archaeologist, University of Iowa (manage OSA archives and collections of monographs, maps, serials, educational resources, and audiovisual materials).
- 1987-90 Substitute teacher, Iowa City Community Schools, Montessori School of Iowa City, Solon Community Schools, West Branch Community Schools (worked primarily as a substitute in school media centers, all grade levels).
- 1985 (summer) Science curriculum writing team member (wrote student lesson plans and compiled teacher resource materials for third and fourth grade educational visit to Iowa Hall museum; also presented workshop to teachers on the use of these materials).
- 1980-85 Mother and homemaker (during this time I did some free-lance editing for the Division of Historic Preservation, aided in the editing of the Plains Anthropological Society Abstracts in 1982, coordinated the publicity for the 1982 and 1983 Iowa City Marathons, supervised work-study university students on an archaeology project, and served on an advisory board for the Montessori School of Iowa City.)

- 1978-79 Teaching assistant, Department of Anthropology, University of Iowa (taught discussion sections in archaeology and anthropology and worked on improving the teaching skills of the department's assistants).
- 1976-78 Project educator, Office of the State Archaeologist of Iowa (researched, wrote, and produced multi-media materials on Iowa prehistory, Iowa Indians, and the science of archaeology for Iowa public schools, worked with classroom teachers throughout the state and AEAs in testing all the materials, compiled supplementary teacher resource materials into a handbook, and planned and participated in teacher workshops in cooperation with the University of Iowa Department of Social Studies Education).
- 1975-76 Editor, Office of the State Archaeologist of Iowa (edited The Iowa Effigy Mound Manifestation: An Interpretive Model by R. Clark Mallam and consulted on other publication and education projects in the office).
- 1974-76 Secondary English teacher, Solon, Iowa (taught composition, media production, individualized reading, and various literature classes and supervised student staff in the planning, writing, layout, and production of high school yearbook).
- 1971 Librarian, Luther College, Teaneck, New Jersey (substituted for the librarian of small sectarian junior college during librarian's extended medical leave of absence).
- 1969-71 Teaching assistant, Department of English, Washington State University (taught three classes of writing each school year, at both the freshman and upperclass levels).
- 1967-69 Student employment at Fryxell Geology Museum and geology department library at Augustana College (did general clerical work, organized the departmental library, coordinated communication with teachers in the Quad City area on educational use of the museum).
- 1967 (summer) Social ministry team member (worked with an ecumenical program in the inner city of St. Louis, providing summer activities for children on the streets of the city).
- 1968-69 (summer) Playground director, Rockford Park District (taught arts and crafts, games, and music and coached athletic teams as well as planned participation on city-wide summer activities for children, pre-school through junior high).

PUBLICATION

- 1993 Iowa's P.A.S.T.: A Classroom Manual for the Video Series. Special Publication, Office of the State Archaeologist, University of Iowa, Iowa City.
- 1998- present OSA News, IAS Newsletter, published quarterly
- 2005 Mildred Mott Wedel, pamphlet for Iowa Archaeology Month, OSA Education and Outreach