

“Gulf Coast Underwater: America Uncovered”

Annual Rhetoric Public Forum

Department of Rhetoric, College of Liberal Arts & Sciences, University of Iowa

Monday, September 26, 2005

Afternoon Program—Richey Ballroom, 3rd floor, IMU

- 1:00-1:10 Welcome Address by Provost Michael Hogan
1:10-1:25 Musical Performance and Personal Stories
Howard Weinberg, a Native of New Orleans
- 1:25-1:45 “New Orleans and the American City of Sprawl,” Barbara Eckstein, Department of English
1:45-2:0 Open Discussion
- 2:10-2:35 “Knowing What Knowing Means: Understanding the Place of Journalism in the Katrina Response,” Frank Durham, School of Journalism & Mass Communication
2:25-2:55 Open Discussion
- 3:00-3:25 “Rebuilding New Orleans after the Hurricane,” James Throgmorton, Urban and Regional Planning
3:25-3:45 Open Discussion
- 4:00-4:25 “Follow the Second Line: New Orleans Musical Rituals,” Richard Turner,
African American World Studies
4:25-4:45 Open Discussion
- 5:00-5:25 “The Soul Patrol” — New Orleans rescue workers Earl Barthe’, Ricky Mathieu,
Jaydell Beard and Mike Woods
5:25-5:45 Open Discussion

Honored guests: Students from the Gulf Coast who have been relocated to Iowa City

Facilitator: Bridget Harris Tsemo, Rhetoric Department

Co-facilitator: Aimee Carrillo-Rowe, Rhetoric Department

Co-Sponsored By: The Office of the Provost and the University Lecture Series Committee

University Of Iowa Lecture Series Evening program—Richey Ballroom, , 3rd floor, IMU

- 7:30 p.m. Lecture: "An Unnatural Metropolis: Wrestling New Orleans from Nature."
Dr. Craig Colten, Louisiana State University, Dept. of Geography

Based on his 2005 book, "An Unnatural Metropolis: Wrestling New Orleans from Nature."