“Constantino Suárez, a photographer of the Civil War in Asturias (1936-37)”

10 November 2009, 4:00-5:00 p.m.
315 Phillips Hall

Constantino Suárez (1899-1983), today a largely forgotten Asturian photographer, left behind one of the largest (photographic) Civil War archives in Spain. In this presentation of her current research, Dr. Nilsson addresses photography in context of the Spanish Civil War, Suarez’s photographic vision and coverage of the conflict in Asturias, photography as tool in historical research, and the relationship between a recovered archive and memory in contemporary Spain.
